

CAHSL GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

1999 - 2000

To promote communication among CAHSL members

- Increase use of CAGSL-L. Appoint a facilitator.
- Increase use of CAHSL website. Announce web updates on CAHSL-L.
- Ask CAHSL members to present a "hot topic" at several CAHSL meetings followed by discussion.

To promote communication about health sciences librarians' skills and resources to other health professionals.

- Offer educational programs through HSLC to other CHA members.
- Create an HSLC website for the CHA home page with a link to CAHSL's website.
- Participate in CHA committees such as the Security Work group and the Ethics Committee.
- Correspond with hospital administrators when a library position is vacated with information about standards, job listing services, and importance of library consortia.

To help member librarians strengthen their knowledge and skills.

- Encourage attendance at the annual NAHSL conference.
- Offer an MLA-accredited continuing education course for the membership.
- Encourage and assist members in applying for membership in AHIP.
- Encourage attendance at NAHLS's Annual Meeting.
- Work with SLA to develop a collaborative program/project.
- Offer programs through CAHSL and HSLC that help prepare us for the future.
- Help NN/LM communicate important changes to NLM resources and procedures.

To continue to develop a cohesive professional group.

- Consider these goals when planning CAHSL meetings and programs.
- Encourage membership and active participation in CAHSL.
- Maintain fiscal stability